Doncaster is set for hundreds of new jobs under two separate schemes revealed this week.

The 700 jobs would be at a green holiday resort due to be built near Hatfield, and at a major distribution centre for the supermarket chain Lidl.

A total of 200 tourism jobs are expected to be created under plans for a green tourist attraction built around a lakes complex in Hatfield, to include a 110 room hotel and 200 lodges.

And Lidl says it expects to take 500 workers on under plans to build a major distribution centre at the Doncaster iPort, near Rossington.
